

Can you help, please?

Mrs Spooner will be attending our Easter Bingo to help out with refreshments and whilst doing this she is hoping to raise vital funds for an Ovarian Cancer charity.

Mrs Spooner is, a former teaching assistant, school play prop maker, and overall classroom creative, whom some of you may remember, she still comes into school as a volunteer to read with the children and regularly attends our fundraising events to help out.

Mrs Spooner; -

"Ovarian Cancer Awareness Month takes place every March. For the past 7 years to raise vitally needed funds I have with a group of friends have rallied together in support of and in celebration of two amazing women who were diagnosed with this terrible disease. Sadly, one lost her battle but Janet is now officially cancer free and living her best life. The treatment and support they both received and their families was unbelievable. So, every year Janet devises some crazy challenge for us to raise awareness for Target Ovarian Cancer.

Some of you may remember me doing 30,000 steps for 30 days - never again This year we were challenged with making a craft item that could be sold or auctioned during March. To this end the school has very kindly allowed me to have a table at the Easter Bingo where you can see my array of rustic houses and caravans made from recycled and repurposed wood and paper. 100% of the proceeds will go to Target Ovarian Cancer via Janet's Just Giving Page (Janet Talbot Challenge 20+ in February 2026)

Thank you"
